

Booking Dialogues: by Lisa Anne Harmon, updated by SSD Melissa Mays & Tips from SSD Chatney Gelfius

Tips: You have to sound excited! What's in it for you/them. You can say it right and if you're boring, you won't get the booking. Never ask a question that you'll get a yes or a no answer...the way you get the booking is to assume that everybody wants to book. Assume no one will tell you no. Free food helps too. Talk fast so they don't butt in. Book everyone! SSD Chatney Gelfius says people book because:

1. To help you win a contest because they like you
2. For a free product
3. Because it sounds like fun
4. Want to see or learn something new

Perfect Start/Powerstart:

Hi _____, this is _____. I'm really excited about something. Do you have a quick minute? Great!

(New Consultants: I've just started my own business with Mary Kay and as a part of my training I'm going to be practicing facials & makeovers with 30 ladies in 30 days. What I would love to do is pamper you with a facial and makeover, and as my thanks, you'll receive a special gift for helping me with my training.)

(Seasoned: We just launched all this new _____. It's so amazing and you're gonna love it and the reason I'm calling you is because I am in a contest and I have to let 15/30 people try this new product and get your opinion.)

...and I could really use your help. Grab your calendar and let's see what's best for you and I'll let you know what I have available.

What's better for you, during the week or on the weekend? During the day or in the evening? I have _____ or _____ available. What's best for you? Great! I appreciate you so much and look forward to seeing you on _____ at _____! (After you have scheduled a time say...)

Turning a facial into a Class:

You know _____, I have a great idea! We have a plan where you can receive some products for FREE as a gift. Could you get excited about earning some FREE products? (wait for her response to say yes) Great! It's just as easy for me to give three or four facials at one time, as it is to give one. In fact, that would help me achieve my 30 faces goal for the month even quicker!

Who do you know that would be a lot of fun? Why don't you invite them over. I'll have some goodies for them to try too. Now _____, just so you know I am coming even if it is just me and you. I'm excited to see you on _____ at _____!

Inviting a Guest to the meeting:

Hi this is. Do you have a minute? Great! I am very excited about an event that is coming up this Monday.

My Director has asked me to bring a Model for our Skin Care Class and we're looking for someone who (has beautiful eyes, red hair, etc.) and I immediately thought of you!

You would have the opportunity to have a facial and makeover, then give your opinion of what you liked. I would be so honored if you would model for me; you would have a ball.

As my thanks you would receive a special gift. Tell me, is there any reason why you couldn't be a model for me this Monday; I think you'd be terrific!

Booking an Interview:

I have decided to move up into leadership in my Mary Kay business, and I'm very excited about it. One step in moving up is to select 5 women who love the product (or compliment 'who are outgoing' or 'who are sharp') and share the information about the career opportunity with them.

I immediately thought of you! You may or may not be interested in Mary Kay, and that's OK. I would love to share the facts of our Company with you and get your opinion.

Is there any reason why you couldn't help me out?

Which would you prefer to do, be a model Monday evening and receive a makeover, then hear about the company....meet for coffee and sit one on one for about 30 minutes...or attend the next event?

(Offer two of the three choices)
