

What's Inside The Little Pink Box? The Promise of Accomplishment.

Mary Kay Ash began awarding achievers at the very first Seminar because she knew that motivation followed by recognition was a recipe for success. And of course, she was right! The Unit Awards program is your chance to walk in Mary Kay's shoes by rewarding top achievers in your unit with Cinderella prizes. That's also what's inside the little pink box! Jewellery that's been designed and chosen by Mary Kay's jewellery expert to befit the accomplishments these awards represent. These pieces are not only wear-tested and quality-tested, they are also things of beauty. They truly are reflective of their "big sisters" that are handed out on the Seminar Awards stage.

So take a page from Mary Kay's handbook: Motivate and reward your unit members using Mary Kay's very own Unit Awards program. Because the more successful your unit members are, the more successful you can be!

Image Is Everything!

You can inspire and entice your unit members to be top achievers by sharing exciting images of these fabulous prizes! There is a great online tool – in both English and French – to help you out.

Try using the online colour clip art located on the Docstore for your convenience. They make it easy for you to encourage your "on track to succeed" unit members.
